A horizontal bar chart illustrating the distribution of fees across four categories. The categories are labeled 50, 0, 50, and 100 from left to right. The bars are composed of black and white segments. The '0' category is entirely white. The '50' category on the far left has a black segment followed by a white segment. The '50' category in the middle has a long black segment followed by a white segment. The '100' category on the far right has a black segment followed by a white segment.
